Principal's Message

I believe I will never tire of seeing the smiles on children's faces as they celebrate their learning. Throughout the past fortnight I have witnessed many examples during my visits to rooms. Some explained to me that they had met their goals, some spoke about their new "personal best" while others expressed that they were eager to share the news with their family. It was this final group of responses that reminded me of the paramount importance of families in valuing and celebrating learning. Thank you for sharing our vision, "Excellence for all within a supportive environment".

On the topic of celebration, I congratulate Preps for hitting the lead in the QParent account registrations! If you haven't yet registered, please do so to boost your child's year level percentage and more importantly, reap the benefits of the app

Nearly 400 of the 1175 students at Broadbeach have a language background other than English. This cultural diversity is a special feature of our school and enhances our learning environment. For some members of this group of students, English is something they have learned since arriving at school. Witnessing the speed with which they become familiar, and then competent in English is inspiring and I acknowledge and applaud their persistence. I also commend our teaching team for their dedication to creating the learning environment in which this learning occurs. Their targeted teaching techniques and focus on individual student progress is fundamental to this success

In Week 8 I will be dusting of my "Auditor" badge to join a team undertaking a review in some schools in Cape York Peninsula. I look forward to the task and the opportunity to contribute to the feedback, particularly regarding those aspects relating to instructional practices that are similar to those we employ in our school. In my absence, Mr Jenks will again assume the position of Principal.

Preparation for the 2024 school year is already well underway. Providing timely information and support for parents during 2022 led to a smooth transition for children into Prep this year and I am keen to replicate this result. You can help by ensuring that all enrolment applications have been completed and lodged with the school reception staff. At the time of writing, we have only received 40 enrolment applications for Prep for 2024.

Stay safe and keep smiling.
Bruce

The Benefits of Gratitude

Gratitude is the act of acknowledging and appreciating the goodness in your life. In our busy lives it is very easy to get caught up with stress, to-do lists and things that inevitably go wrong. Regular gratitude has been associated with greater happiness, health, resilience and stronger relationships. Appreciating and expressing thanks to others whilst cherishing the positive aspects of our own lives improves wellbeing for everyone.

Some ways to show gratitude:

1. Write an impromptu email/letter/text message to someone you are thankful for to thank them for their help or for just being themselves.
2. Take a moment in the evening to think of 3 good things that happened during the day. You can write them down in a journal, on your phone, share it with someone or reflect to yourself.
3. Practise mindfulness to fully appreciate your surroundings – take a moment to look around and notice things you normally wouldn't. Ideas include taking a mindful walk, noticing the view from your window or eating a meal without distractions.
4. Make gratitude a part of your family's routine. Sharing one good thing from the day around the dinner table can be an easy way to check-in with loved ones and express gratitude.

5. Take pictures of small things throughout the day that bring you joy so you can reflect on these later.
